make kindness the norm.

A year long journey of kindness, compassion, and self-care designed specifically for the workplace.
THIS ISN’T JUST ANY OLD CALENDAR...

IT’S WAY COOLER AND IS HONESTLY GOING TO CHANGE YOUR WHOLE LIFE.
The Random Acts of Kindness Foundation created a 12 month workplace kindness calendar highlighting monthly themes structured to create a kinder work culture. Each month offers daily ideas for individuals to complete in a few minutes or less. On top of the daily ideas, there is a team-based activity that can be used to celebrate kindness each month as a team, a small group or the whole company!

Guess what? Science shows that the positive effects of kindness are experienced in the brain of those who participated in, received or witnessed the act, improving their mood and making them significantly more likely to “pay it forward.” This means one act of kindness in a crowded area can create a domino effect and improve the day of dozens of people! You can be that person. Imagine if those small acts changed the culture of your workplace.

Even though all of these activities and ideas are written for the workplace, please know that they can be adapted and done at home, individually or in your community! Kindness can be done anywhere at anytime so don’t worry about that whole 9 to 5 thing.

We hope you enjoy this 12 month journey and invite you to join the RAKtivist (Random Acts of Kindness Activists) group on our website as well as on Facebook where you can tell us about your journey!
TAKE GOOD CARE OF YOURSELF.
JANUARY 2019

SELF-CARE

January is all about self-care. This month, help your team understand the importance of taking care of themselves, both mentally and physically.

Team Activity

Have your team write down one positive thing about themselves every day. It can be about their appearance, their capabilities or skills, personality or attributes (determined, easy-going, etc.). Have them keep the list going all month. At the end of the month, encourage them to write a letter to themselves incorporating all of the positive qualities and have them put it somewhere safe where they can open it at a future date to remind them how amazing they are.

TEAM ACTIVITY
Organize a meeting with the entire team. Provide pens and lots of colored sticky notes. Have everyone write down five acts of kindness (one for each sticky note) they can perform in your workplace or nearby.

Stick all the notes on the wall in a conference room, a bulletin board or somewhere in a shared space where everyone can see them.

Throughout the month, encourage people to grab a note off the wall and perform that act of kindness.

At the end of the month, see how many acts of kindness were completed!

DID YOU KNOW?
Did you know that you can actively build the ability to be courageous? When you face your fears repeatedly, you break the influence they have on you.

TEAM ACTIVITY
During the month of March, find a local organization that could use your help and find a day (or half day) when everyone can volunteer in person.

If that isn’t possible, create a fundraiser and ask others to donate either money, gift cards or goods/services that the organization can use.

Be sure to check with the organization first so your efforts are meaningful.

When you’re finished, celebrate as a team and maybe plan another volunteering event.

BE. HERE. NOW.
TEAM ACTIVITY

The Raisin Exercise

In this exercise, the facilitator provides participants with a few raisins (or any food with a unique texture/smell/look) and asks that they pretend they have never seen it before.

The facilitator then asks that the group pay attention to:

- The way the food looks
- How it feels
- How their skin responds to its manipulation
- Its smell
- Its taste

Focusing on the single object of the food they have is meant to bring the participant’s mind to the present, to what is right in front of them.

“By focusing on the raisin in their hand and making a point to notice everything about it, they are unlikely to be expending energy, time and attention on worrying or ruminating about other parts of their lives”

Fleming & Kocovski (2007)

DID YOU KNOW?

Research demonstrates that mindfulness bolsters our immune system, making us better able to fight off diseases, from the flu to cancer.

Mindfulness helps improve our concentration and reduce ruminative thinking that contributes to the high levels of stress that is so prevalent in our society.

TEAM ACTIVITY

Create a “Generosity Board” in a shared space like a lunch room or conference room.

Put up a bulletin board or use a white board (or just use a blank wall). Have a meeting where everyone writes ideas for being generous, charities to donate to or activities that individuals or teams can do to show generosity on colorful sticky notes.

Try to come up with at least five ideas per person.

At the end of the meeting, stick all the notes to the wall and leave them up all month.

As people come in and out of the space, they can pull a note from the wall and complete the idea/activity.

DID YOU KNOW?

Giving social support—whether time, effort, or goods—is associated with better overall health in older adults, and volunteering is associated with delayed mortality.

A meta-analysis of 37 studies of older adults found that those who volunteered reported greater quality of life; another study found that frequent helpers reported feeling greater vitality and self-esteem.

TEAM ACTIVITY

Develop an integrity award to acknowledge integrity in individuals.

Make this a team activity by encouraging each member of your group to submit a name for a monthly winner of the award.

Have them consider their peer’s actions and write a couple of sentences about why they chose this individual to win the award.

This helps your group realize that others can watch and learn from their positive actions. Provide the winners with an award you all decide upon.

Find a way to acknowledge the winners’ actions or traits that helped him win the award (newsletter, email to the company, etc.).

DID YOU KNOW?

Research from the University of Notre Dame has shown that when people were more honest, they tended to feel better about their relationships and social interactions.

Team Activity

Find an “accountability partner”—someone you work with regularly or someone new!

Set three goals (personal or work-related) that are achievable this month.

(Examples might include signing up for a gym membership, cooking at home 3 times a week, purging file drawers, etc.)

Check in with your accountability partner once a week to see where you stand on your goals and celebrate as you complete each one!

DID YOU KNOW?

A great way to foster responsibility in the workplace is to set SMART goals. SMART goals are specific, measurable, achievable, results-oriented and time-bound.

Having goals that meet these criteria will help you measure your own productivity.

EXPLORE YOUR PASSIONS.
This month’s focus is on purpose and passion in our lives. Without purpose or passion, life has less meaning. Reflect on what you are passionate about and how you are fulfilling your purpose.

TEAM ACTIVITY

Using a sheet of paper, create a table with three columns labeled “My Gifts, Talents and Attributes”, “Value to Me”, and “Value to Others”

In the first column, list as many personal gifts, talents and attributes you can think of (for instance, athleticism, creativity, caring, empathy, intelligence, etc.)

For each gift, use the second column to describe a way it brings value to your life.

Last, for each gift, describe how it brings value to others.

Then, look at the “Value to Others” column and think about how you can do something to put that skill into action. Set goals for at least three of those attributes.

Example of a completed goal: I am creative and I think outside the box. I can engage people in new ideas or information by volunteering for an organization and helping them think of new and creative ways to raise funds or awareness about their mission.

Divide your team into groups of four or five people.

Pass a bag of M&M’s around each group and tell each person to “take as much as you need.” That’s all you will tell them. If they ask, just repeat the instruction.

Once everyone has gotten some M&M’s, tell them they will go around the circle and tell the other members of the group one unique thing about themselves for every M&M they took.

Have group members continue until all M&M’s are gone. Switch up the groups and do it again.

DID YOU KNOW?

Other people matter and whether organizations and their employees, languish or flourish largely depends on the quality of the social connections they nurture in the workplace.

TODAY IS A WONDERFUL DAY.
NOVEMBER IS THE MONTH TO SHOW GRATITUDE!

SUN - MON - TUE - WED - THU - FRI - SAT

29 - 30 - 31

- Start a gratitude jar. Add three things you are grateful for every day this month.
- Show gratitude to someone publicly on social media.

1 - 2

- FREE DAY!
- Show gratitude to a colleague today.
- Give a larger tip than usual.

3 - 4 - 5 - 6 - 7 - 8 - 9

- Tell your best friend or partner why you are grateful for them.
- Write down 10 things you are grateful for right now.
- FREE DAY!
- Everyone is important—learn the names of your barista, security guards, and work neighbors.
- If someone compliments you, thank them and let them know you’re proud of that skill, talent, or accomplishment.
- Give someone you love an unexpected hug.

10 - 11 - 12 - 13 - 14 - 15 - 16

- World Kindness Day #MakeKindnessTheNorm
- Write a note of gratitude to a veteran thanking them for their service.
- Send an email to your boss telling them how they have helped you be successful.
- Leaving a small gift of gratitude for the night shift custodians.
- Schedule a date with yourself—an afternoon or evening that’s all about you!
- Give someone an unexpected hug.

17 - 18 - 19 - 20 - 21 - 22 - 23

- Spread the word about your favorite local business.
- Cover for a coworker so they can leave early.
- FREE DAY!
- Say thank you to a maintenance worker.
- Take a walk to reflect on what you are grateful for.
- Text three people right now telling them why you are grateful for them.

24 - 25 - 26 - 27 - 28 - 29 - 30

- Make a list of ways you’ve impressed yourself lately.
- Say thank you to someone with a hard job that not many people thank.
- Randomly place sticky notes around the office expressing your gratitude to everyone on your team.
- Don’t complain for 24 hours.
- Tell 3 people why you are grateful for them.
- Make a list of five simple pleasures you are grateful for.
- Empty and read the gratitude jar you have created throughout the month.

---

TEAM ACTIVITY

Have your team share what you are grateful for with one another.

Ask your team to break into pairs and face each other. Have enough simple office objects for them to gently toss back and forth (you can use post it notes, a marker, a stress ball, etc.).

For three minutes, have them pass the object back and forth, each time sharing something for which they are grateful.

When the three minutes are up, bring the group back together and ask them to share how they felt during the activity and what they feel the benefits were.

DID YOU KNOW?

The simple act of practicing gratitude every day rewires your brain to be more resilient, focused, and positive throughout the day.

R.E.S.P.E.C.T.
DECEMBER IS THE MONTH OF RESPECT! WE SPEND A LOT OF TIME WITH OUR COLLEAGUES, BUT OFTEN WE AREN'T REALLY LISTENING TO THEM. RESPECT STARTS WITH GOOD COMMUNICATION.

Team Activity

Step 1: Inform participants about the upcoming exercise. "In the following exercise, you will team up with another person and have a brief conversation with this person. You will take the role of both the talker and the listener in this exercise."

Step 2: Mindless listening
Ask one partner to share for one solid minute about their favorite activity. Listener should interrupt, ask questions, look bored, cross arms, etc.

Step 3: Mindful listening
Now ask the other partner to share for one solid minute about their favorite activity. Listener should pay close attention, not interrupt, maintain eye contact, etc.

Step 4: Evaluation
Outside person should ask the storyteller and listener the following questions:

1. What was it like in the first round to be the storyteller?
2. What was it like in the first round to be the listener?
3. What was it like in the second round to be the storyteller?
4. What was it like in the second round to be the listener?
5. Are there times that you recognize yourself as a mindless listener? If so, when?
6. Are there times that you recognize yourself as a mindful listener? If so, when?

DID YOU KNOW?

If you want to be someone who is respected, start by respecting others. Seek to learn and understand.
